Hours after the killing, the sugar mill of KAMADA cooperative was burned down. Colleagues of Romeo believe the two cases are related.

On the 14th and 15th of August, an international group of observers and supporters for the Fair Trade movement from Europe and around the world traveled to Panay Island. While there, the groups petitioned the local authorities to bring Justice to the perpetrators of the murder to Romeo Robles Capalla. Capalla was murdered for the Fair Trade work he did with the farmers of Panay. As to date, no one has been brought to justice, despite the known name of the perpetrator.

WFTO intends to follow the cases until the perpetrators of Romeo's murder are brought to justice.

Please support the Panay Fair Trade Sugar Farmers.
