VOICE

International Day for the Eradication of Poverty: Break the Chains of Poverty

17 October

The eradication of poverty is at the core of Fair Trade. Fair Trade 'contributes to sustainable development by offering better trading conditions to, and securing the rights of, marginalized producers and workers.'

As part of the global Anti-poverty week campaign, WFTO-Asia asked Fair Trade Organizations what freedom from poverty means? See the full document Anti Poverty Week Quotes

SWITCH Asia: FTOs in the Garment Industry

The largest EU program on sustainable consumption and production in Asia. SWITCH ASIA asked Executive Director of WFTO-Asia, Christine Gent, about Fair Trade textile organizations. Christine (page 8), called for more reporting on Fair Trade within Corporate Social Responsibility. There are 76 FTOs working in textiles and garments in eleven Asian countries. The growing number of FTOs – in Asia alone grew by 16% in 2014 – shows significant potential for further growth within the garment industry!

If interested to meet, collaborate or participate in a workshop contact our office at: sustainability@wfto-asia.com to RSVP! There are still places available and its free of cost.

SAR Deadline

1 December

Members are required to submit their Self Assessment Report (SAR) by 01 December.

Pradeep from the Ants Craft has just submitted the SAR and says, "Gosh it took a few hours but at the end we have a completed SAR and 'phew'! ...on to the next stage. It was so great to talk it through in person. We are extremely thankful and hope to get to the next level soon. Thanks once again to the entire team (WFTO & WFTO-Asia) for being supportive, patient and helpful in fulfilling this humongous task of SAR".

Please let the WFTO-Asia team know if you would like support, we are here to help.

What is the SAR?

The Self Assessment Report (SAR) expands on the 10 Fair Trade Principles. Every two years, members update the SAR for monitoring requirements. The SAR is checked by the office, auditor and peer visitor. In turn members have committed to a seamless embedding of continuous improvement in business operations and their commitment to Fair Trade.

VIP Program

Jeromine Schneider, WFTO-Asia VIP coordinator, connects volunteers with members in Asia. In Chiang Mai she interned at Thai Tribal Crafts. Jeromine started as a volunteer herself. Read below to hear about Jeromine's experience.

"Having studied International Trade, I was considering working in a Fair Trade company but wanted the field experience first. I discovered the VIP Program on WFTO-Asia website. An internship with Thai Tribal Crafts (TTC) in Chiang Mai, Thailand was suggested.

In checking their website, I was really excited to learn they support ethnic minorities in Thailand. My internship at TTC was a great opportunity for me: a strong working experience abroad, but above all a wonderful HUMAN experience. I was involved in developing a new shop display and the research it required upstream. In this experience, I felt I gained unique insight while contributing to the team".
