

A photograph showing the interior of a severely damaged building. The floor is covered in a thick layer of rubble, including bricks, concrete blocks, and wooden planks. Two men are visible in the lower right area. One man, wearing a brown shirt and a red bandana covering his face, is using a long-handled tool, possibly a pry bar or crowbar, to move debris. The other man, wearing a dark blue jacket, stands nearby, observing. The background shows the remains of brick walls and some structural elements, indicating significant structural damage.

“The devastating earthquake has deeply uprooted our lives leaving devastation behind. This really shook us to our roots and shattered our hope and belief.”

-Association of Craft Producers

QUICK FACTS ABOUT THE EARTHQUAKE

THE HUMAN TOLL IS THE HIGHEST ON RECORD IN NEPAL. 9,000 people were killed and another 23,000 were injured. With the total destruction of 450 public health facilities, including 5 hospitals, the country's ability to respond was overwhelmed in the wake of the earthquake.

THE ECONOMIC COST OF THE QUAKE IS ESTIMATED TO BE AS MUCH AS HALF NEPAL'S ANNUAL GDP. The world bank has declared the disaster to have pushed 3% of the population into poverty - "as many as 1M more poor people." This is expected to have severe, long-term effects on the Nepali economy.

THE GOVERNMENT OF NEPAL STRUGGLES TO COORDINATE AND DISTRIBUTE THE AID MONEY IT HAS RECEIVED FROM VARIOUS DONORS. Due to years of internal conflict, local and national bodies lack the organization to deal with a disaster on this scale. Technical assistance is required to maximize the effectiveness of assistance programs.

THE DISASTER IS NOT OVER. Geophysicists predict another large earthquake will strike the area in the coming years. Recovery and emergency preparedness must be a priority to avoid similar destruction and loss of life in the future.

HOW FTG NEPAL IS HELPING

Almost immediately following the massive earthquake on 25 April that mainly affected the populated Kathmandu Valley, Fair Trade Group Nepal sprang into action. Using our deep connections to over 9,000 people in the area, we were able to begin delivering food and comfort to victims by May 1st. With the help of our member organizations, we were able to confirm by telephone the details of the damage in staff & producer communities and how it has continued to affect them in the passing weeks.

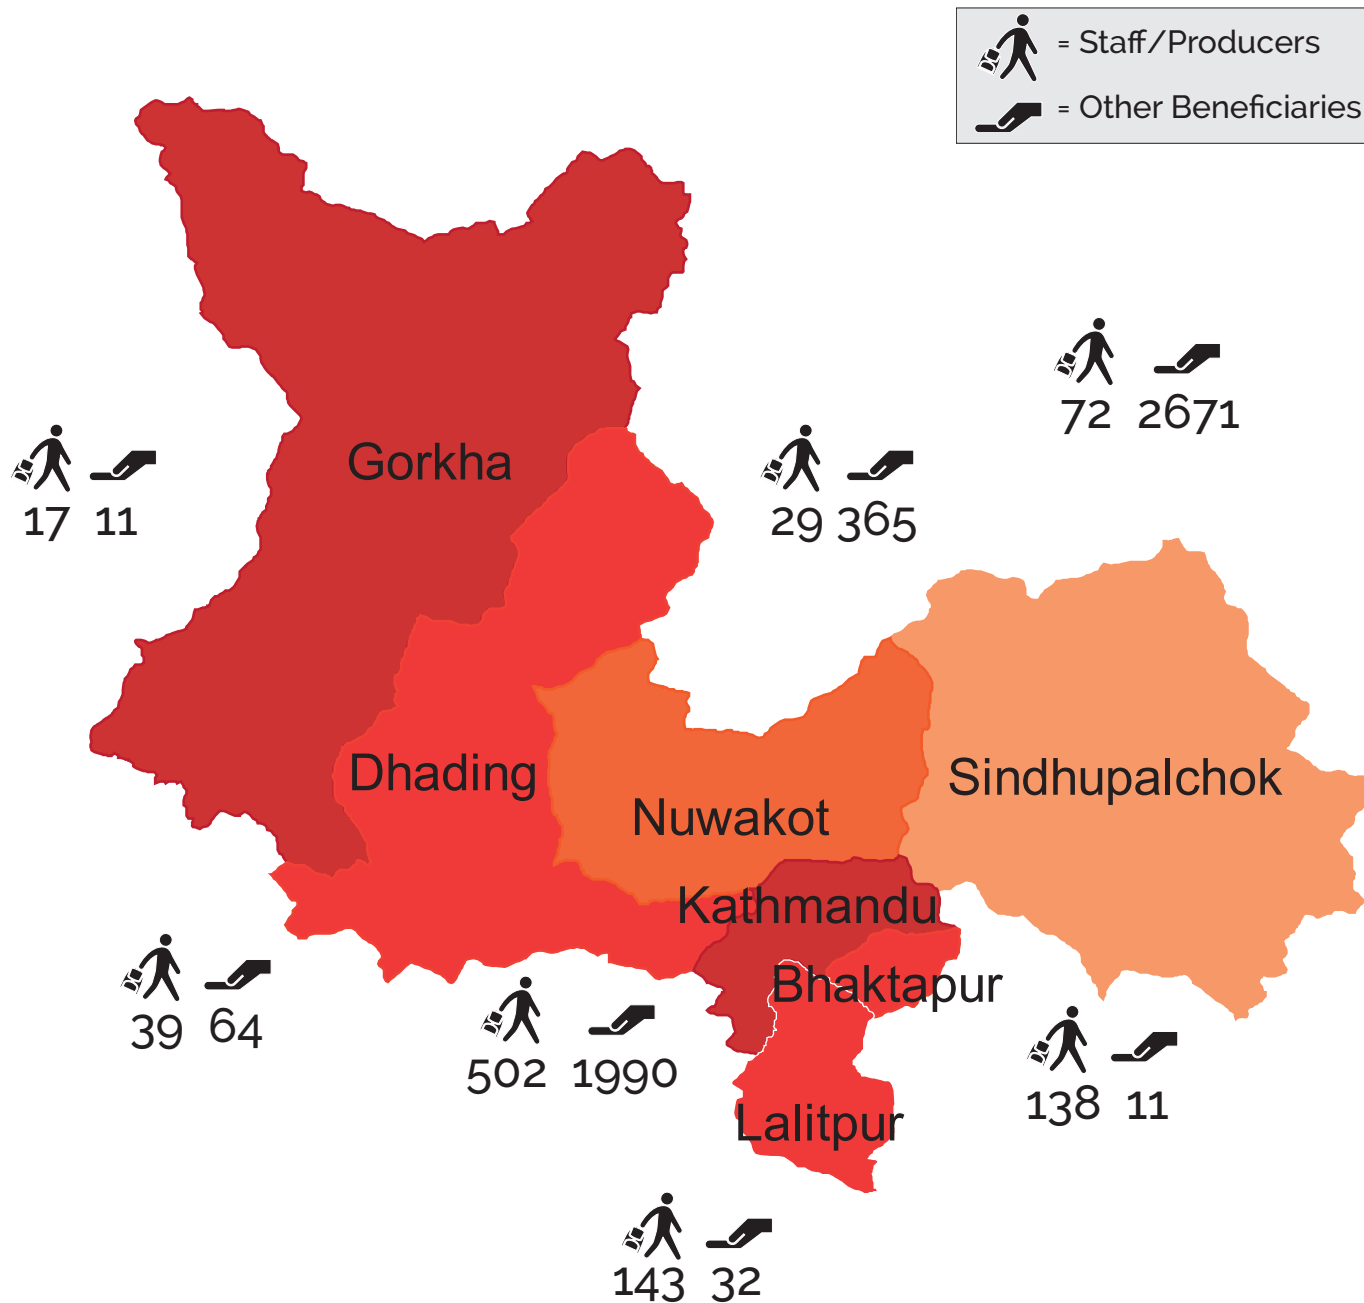

Over 1.3 million Nepali Rupees have already been distributed to member organizations, who have identified the most needy and delivered the cash directly to producers and their families. Another 7.5 million+ Nepali Rupees is being held in reserve for project seed capital and cash grants for home demolishing, rebuilding, and repair.

FTGN is in a uniquely effective position to deliver ongoing aid to affected communities because of our two-decade-old roots in the country, our trade and social networks, and our experience in sustainable livelihood building among the most vulnerable groups in Nepal. We have utilized surveys, telephone, and in-person interviews to understand the needs of victims in the hardest hit areas and have moved to address the most urgent humanitarian issues with the types of aid requested most.

Our medium- to long-term goals include:

- > Cash relief for those who have lost their homes
- > Low-interest loans for FTG members' personnel
- > Earthquake & emergency preparedness
- > Structural safety for homes & workshops
- > Rebuilding fallen structures
- > Business incubation & development
- > Scholarships & other aid to victims' families
